State Police Plan Dips Into School Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Arkansas Legislative Council committee recommended Thursday that general revenue be used to support the State Police agency and a bitter fight with school forces appeared to be brewing.

Groups that want more money for public education in Arkansas have hotly opposed previous attempts to take money from the general fund, from which schools derive their financing.

The Roads and Highways Committee voted in favor of the proposal offered by Rep. Raymond L. Mays of Cleveland County. He was backed by Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott.

"Man, oh man, we are headed for a fight with school people," said Rep. Bill Tucker of Hot Spring County, who is not a member of the committee.

The committee vote, which amounts to a recommendation, will be considered by the full council, which can recommend the proposal to the 1965 legislature, or can recommend against it.

The State Police is financed out of specific revenues, notably the drivers' license fees, but the agency's economy has been sagging because it has outgrown the amount of funds available to it.

The committee turned down a proposal by Rep. Talbot Feild Jr. of Hempstead County, who wanted to continue financing the State Police with license fees and pay any deficits out of the Highway Fund.

The agency had had to borrow about $400,000 a year against January license fees to meet its bills, but license revenues haven't been high enough to cover the cost of existing and expanding programs.

Stricter economy measures once were ordered by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, but some legislators objected, so Faubus ordered the cutbacks restored.

Mays would put all State Police revenues into the general fund and let the agency draw on this source for its support.

"This is a vital organ of state government," he said. "For years they have operated on low budgets and low pay. Troopers have to moonlight jobs to make ends meet. This isn't in the public interest."

British Brunette New Miss World

LONDON — A statuesque British brunette danced into the early hours today to celebrate her coronation as Miss World of 1964.

She is Ann Sidney, 20, a hair stylist whose measurements are 36-24-36. She stands 5-foot-8 and weighs 132 pounds.

"The girls were wonderful. There was no bad feeling," said green-eyed Ann.

She collected $7,000 in prize money and screen tests.

The annual affair in London's Lyceum Ballroom usually produces considerable squabbling among contestants.

After her selection from among five finalists, Ann attended a televised ball at a plush restaurant with the 41 other contestants.

Miss United States, Jeanne Quinn, was among the 16 semi-finalists but failed to qualify in the finals.

Ana Maria Soria, 25, a model from Argentina, took second place and $1,400.

Barry's Jap Aide Resigns Position

TOKYO — The Japanese government official who campaigned for Sen. Barry Goldwater in Hawaii has resigned.

Yoshiro Kikuchi, 74, gave up the post of vice parliamentary minister of science and technology on Nov. 2, the government announced today. Yazo Kotsuke, 69, succeeded him.

The government ordered Kikuchi home from Honolulu on Oct. 31 after word of his political activities reached Tokyo. Officials felt his campaigning was an interference in U. S. internal affairs.

Red China Team in Moscow Seems to Have New Russian Regime Over a Big Barrel

An AP News Analysis
By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red China's team in Moscow seems to have the new Soviet regime over a barrel in the struggle over what direction world communism will take.

Premier Chou En-lai and his delegation forced a concession from the Kremlin in return for extending the current chilly truce in the dispute. From its strong bargaining position, Red China appears to have forced the Kremlin to back away from its plans for a December meeting of international Communist leaders to prepare for a world meeting.

Instead, there are to be Soviet-Chinese talks in Peking early next year. But in the long run, this concession means little.

The talks this week accomplished little beyond temporarily halting the barrage and counterbarrage of vilification which flew between Moscow and Peking in Nikita Khrushchev's time. This cease-fire now may last into 1965, or at least keep the battle in a minor key.

But up to now the new Soviet leadership under Leonid I. Brezhnev as Communist party first secretary and Alexei N. Kosygin as premier seems to have failed in an important respect to meet the Chinese price for anything approaching a real peace.

While talks went on in Moscow, Peking's propaganda laid down peace conditions in no uncertain terms. The conditions are harsh and probably never can be met by the Russians.

The Peking People's Daily, the voice of the Chinese party, wanted the Soviet Union, if it wanted to restore unity, would have to support violent revolution everywhere, regardless of risk.

The Communist world, it said, is "duty bound to support actively the revolutionary struggle of all oppressed people and nations."

The Chinese make these points: The Soviet Union must refrain from dictating to other parties. The People's Daily said unity depends upon disappearance of "great nation chauvinism."

"Moscow must treat Peking as equal. Above all, Moscow must turn more aggressive in the international arena, must agree that the United States is the main enemy, and must agree to zero in on the Americans."

Such a policy would tighten not only the Soviet public, but all Europe — including Europe's Communists, because a harsh policy would once again unite the Western world as it did when Stalin was at his most threatening.

California to Add Computers to Reading, Writing and Arithmetic in Schools

By RONALD L. SOBLE
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — For Northern California students next year it'll be reading, writing, arithmetic — and computers.

Some 300,000 high school and junior college students will have the opportunity to learn firsthand about the age of automation. And their teachers will be freed from much of the paperwork that now hinders classroom work.

Core of the program will be a data processing center that will open in July 1965 in the Sacramento Office of Education. A smaller pilot center was tested earlier in Richmond, Calif., schools.

"It's one of the most significant advances in the educational field in recent years," said Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction.

"Students will have an opportunity to gain an understanding of the potential and implications of computers in our complicated world," said Dr. Alvin Grossman, a data processing expert for the California Department of Education. "Also, the computing center will allow youngsters to learn about employment opportunities related to the machines."

Rafferty said courses in programming and systems analysis and design will be an immediate outgrowth of the center's activities.

The electronic computer complex, developed by the Honeywell Corp., will serve another important function — it will

Robber Thoughtful in Some Ways

NEW YORK AP — A night clerk told police how he was robbed at his hotel early today and taken on a ride uptown by the gunman who then stopped the car and said: "Here's two dollars, take a cab back."

Mortimer Patant, 39, told police the gunman walked into the empty lobby of the Hotel Madison at midnight and said, "Give me your money or your life."

Patant said he gave the gunman $70 from the till and $2.50 of his own. Then he was ordered into the car and told to "make no false moves" during the 80-block ride. Patant told police.

Defends Idle State Money Bank Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Treasurer Nancy J. Hall said Thursday that transferring state funds from idle bank accounts to ones that draw interest may not be as profitable as some people believe.

She said banks do not now charge the state for handling checks and other transactions.

If the state demands interest on its deposits, banks may demand payment for handling the state's business, Mrs. Hall said.

Winthrop Rockefeller, the Republican who lost to Gov. Orval E. Faubus in the general election, said during the campaign that the state should get interest on its deposited funds. He said $500,000 could be earned on this money in interest each year.

"I know that other states charge interest on these deposits, but they have larger amounts of money involved, making it worthwhile," Mrs. Hall said.

The state now had about $12 million in non-interest-drawing bank accounts.

Headon Crash Fatal to Child

JUDSONIA, Ark. (AP) — Peggy Hatfield, 9, of Noel, Mo., was killed in the head-on collision of two cars here Thursday.

State Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by Jackie Hatfield, 23, also of Noel.

His car collided with one driven by Golden Lassiter, 54, of Bald Knob, officers said. Hatfield and Lassiter were reported in critical condition in a Searcy hospital.

Over 5,000 Dead in Viet Nam Disaster

By HORST FAAS

DA NANG, South Viet Nam — Nature has dealt the anti-Communist war in central Viet Nam a staggering blow. Floods have drowned more than 5,000 persons and wrecked communications and transportation across 10 provinces.

Roads and bridges throughout an area the size of New Jersey were washed out. Two hundred miles of the nation's only north-south railway and the main north-south highway were gone.

"This flood has hurt our communications more than thousands of tons of Viet Cong explosives could have done," a U.S. military adviser said.

"To rebuild all this," another American adviser said, "will take large engineer units. If the Viet Cong tries to interfere with this work, very large numbers of security troops will have to be brought in to secure the engineers. This could be damaging to other areas if we have to divert troops here."

U.S. officials felt that the Viet Cong probably got off lighter because their base areas are on high ground.

Relief supplies were being rushed in from U.S. bases in Okinawa and the Philippines.

The flood waters were receding slowly, but it was still raining in much of the devastated area.

The U.S. command in Saigon sent a team of logistic and medical experts to the scene.

Vietnamese medical officials, also moved in, seeking to prevent epidemics. Technicians and disaster experts poured in from Saigon.

The government ordered all government employees and military personnel to donate one day's pay to the flood victims.

Many of the dead were villagers who did not take the rising waters seriously until it was too late. In places the receding flood left thatched houses 35 feet up in trees.

Prisoner Says Pardon to Judge

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

LEWISBURG, Pa. — There's the story about the governor touring a state penal institution when he was met in a narrow hallway by a life-term convict.

"Pardon me," the convict said as he brushed by.

A similar incident occurred here Thursday as 34 federal judges were touring the U.S. penitentiary and a prisoner called from his cell: "I hope you can cut some sentences."

The judges knew he was joking, and joined in the laughter.

At another point in the tour, U.S. Dist. Judge Francis L. Dusen of Philadelphia was approached in the machine shop by a young man in his late 20s who asked if more law books could be acquired for the prison library.

"They don't have as many here as at Leavenworth or Atlanta," the prisoner complained.

Although the tour had its lighter moments, Warden O. G. Blackwell, who once headed Alcatraz, considered the visit a most serious thing.

"It gives the judges an opportunity to see what happens to a man after he's sentenced," Blackwell said. "We have the responsibility to carry out the sentence of the court. This shows the judges how we're doing it."

The tour was part of a three-day sentencing institute attended by U. S. District Court judges from the Third Circuit, comprising Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the Virgin Islands.

Game Weather Good

By The Associated Press
LITTLE ROCK — The U.S. Weather Bureau here issued this forecast Thursday for Saturday's Arkansas-Southern Methodist football game at Fayetteville:

Clear to partly cloudy and mild. Temperatures in the upper 60s. Winds westerly 10-15 miles per hour.

This Time It Was for Real

SALT LAKE CITY — Jack Benny, often the victim of comic misfortunes on his television program, had a real one Thursday.

A car that was to bring the performer from the airport into the city traveled only a few feet before running out of gas. An embarrassed reception committee quickly found another vehicle.

Benny, who will play the violin in a benefit performance with the Utah Symphony Orchestra Saturday night, brushed the incident off with a shrug.

Thinks the U.S. Missile Edge More Than 4-1

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON — The United States will still have more than a 4-to-1 edge over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles by early 1965, but the Soviets may begin catching up after that, a leading Western research institute estimated today.

The annual review of the Institute of Strategic Studies also said the Soviet Union is maintaining its numerical superiority in submarine strength and "there are indications that the Soviet naval air force and missile-firing submarines are coming to play a more central role in her strategy."

America's Strategic Air Command has clear superiority in the number of intercontinental bombers, the review reported, but the Soviet Union maintains a strong force of medium bombers capable of strikes at Japan or Western Europe.

The review said Communist China's army has little strategic mobility, because of primitive logistics, and its air force has only obsolescent aircraft.

But it said the Chinese nuclear test has shown "that the Chinese nuclear technology is apparently considerably more advanced than it was generally given credit for."

The Institute of Strategic Studies researches problems on defense, world security and disarmament.

It is an international study group of experts largely from North Atlantic Treaty Organization members and includes politicians and military authorities from the United States, Britain, West European countries and India. Lord Attlee, the former British prime minister, is its president.

The review said the Soviet Union fields 200 intercontinental ballistic missiles — double the number a year ago — and this may increase substantially in 1965.

But by early 1965, the United States will have 925 ICBMs compared with 745 a year earlier.

"However," the report said, "this may be the last year in which the Western superiority in long-range striking power is so marked as the American ICBM program becomes substantially completed next year, and if the Soviet missile build-up is continued under Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev."

The United States has increased its lead over the Soviet Union in fleet ballistic missiles from under 2-to-1 to 4-to-1 during the past year.

The Soviet Union is building about 10 nuclear-powered submarines a year.

A reduction in Soviet conventional military power seems unlikely.

Legion Group to Discuss Education

In observance of Education Week which ends Saturday, Leslie Huddleston American Legion Post Auxiliary will carry out the theme, "Education Pays Dividends" at its regular November meeting next Tuesday.

The Auxiliary is seeking to bring information about the Junior GI Bill to young people eligible for educational aid. Mrs. E. P. Neal, child welfare chairman and Mrs. Joe Jones, junior activities chairman and a panel of four Junior Auxiliary members, Mary Ann Bader, Sharon Frith, Janie Seamans and Brenda Bain, will present the program.

Six Railway Unions Post Strike Notices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six railroad shop unions have scheduled a strike against most of the nation's railroads for 6 a.m. (local time) Nov. 23, union sources said today.

The strike notice has not yet been served on the railroads but union general chairmen are issuing instructions to the more than 150,000 shop workers, sources said.

Federal mediators continued efforts to reach a settlement in a 17-month-old wage dispute, meeting with union spokesman Michael Fox.

J.E. Wolfe, chief railroad negotiator, returned to Chicago Thursday night after also meeting with mediators.

Stepped Out Dresses, No Brow Lifted

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When the models stepped out of their dresses in Pauline Trigere's showroom not an eyebrow was lifted: They wore other dresses underneath.

The idea of wearing two dresses at the same time, a scheme which played a major part in her spring collection Thursday, was Miss Trigere's reaction to the current tendency by American women to wear not even enough of one dress.

Models flipped off skirts and peeled away jackets on costumes called "top suits." There they stood looking ready for the cocktail hour in billowing chiffon or brilliantly colored silk prints with cow necklines or giant scarves.

In this timeless strip act, "top dress" was the name Miss Trigere conceived for a sleeveless V-necked wool which, with a shrug of the shoulders, fell away in favor of a voluminous soft pink silk number.

The quick-change artistry was just one aspect of the show. There were touches of Middle East influence as dark-eyed misses in bright silk draped matching harem veils over their heads.

There was a bit of Victorianism in the lavish use of pin stripes, throat-hugging collars with black ribbon ties and jackets and dresses with lapel neck openings cut in a "V" to the waist and worn over modest dickeres.

But most costumes were as French and chic as Miss Trigere herself in her white mink dress.

Pilot Rescued After 24 Hrs. in a Liferaft

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A ship early today rescued a civilian pilot who bobbed for nearly 24 hours in a raft after his single engine plane crashed in the South Atlantic Ocean, the Air Force reported.

Radio reports from the ship said the pilot, Lowell Thompson of Spokane, Wash., was in good condition after his ordeal. The vessel, the S.S. Robin Sherwood, was to take him to Ascension Island, site of a U.S. missile tracking station.

The pickup scene was about 140 miles west of Ascension. The Robin Sherwood, a tracking base supply ship, reached the area Thursday night but was unable to spot Thompson because of darkness. It sighted him at dawn not far from the floating wreckage of his Cessna 182.

The Air Force Information office at Patrick said Thompson, who owns a flying service in Spokane, was ferrying the plane under contract from Fort Lauderdale to South Africa.

Strike Troubled Ford Co. Will Start Layoffs

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The strike-troubled Ford Motor Co. starts a huge layoff of workers across the country tonight in what Ford President Arjay Miller says may become a full shutdown by next week.

Week-old strikes by the United Auto Workers at eight factories, including key parts and stamping plants that feed the Ford car production setup, are held to blame.

If Ford closes all its 90 plants, a total of 160,000 hourly workers will be laid off.

Little Man Now Has a Lobbyist

By JOSEPH E. MOHAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little guy who stands in ignorant awe of the massive process of criminal law now has a lobbyist in Washington.

For the present, he is located in a drab, cramped cubicle on the fourth floor of the department whose traditional role has been to prosecute — the Department of Justice.

For the present, the little guy's chief lobbyist — Prof.
James Vorenberg — spends two days a week on his Washington job, the rest of his schedule taken up with teaching criminal law at Harvard.

But it's a start. That was what former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had in mind, just before he left office two months ago, when he established an Office of Criminal Justice within the Justice Department.

Kennedy put it succinctly to an assembly of criminal lawyers last Aug. 10 when he announced the innovation. The office, he said, would insure "that the department over which I preside is more than a department of prosecution and is, in fact, the Department of Justice."

The office is still an embryo.
Under the direction of Voren-berg, it is still setting down the momentous questions it must ask and answer in its crusade to assure every American his full measure of equal justice under the law.

Was the jury fairly and legally chosen? Was the defendant convicted on Page 1 before he went to trial? Was it right to tap his telephone? Was he held by police too long without a lawyer — and too long before arraigment? Was he properly treated while authorities were determining his mental competency?

Vorenberg and his handful of lawyers, plucked from around the department, know the answers will be a long time in coming. They'll come only after deep research, extensive consultation with federal, state and local officials, and countless conferences such as the one that focused national attention on the problems of bail last spring.

"We're not here to propose a magic formula," the lean, dark-haired, 36-year-old Vorenberg told an interviewer recently.
"We're never going to produce the perfect answer. We're not a mediator but a moderator."

"The nature of the problem will determine what the office will do," Vorenberg explained.
"If legislation is needed — like the Criminal Justice Act that passed this year — we'll suggest that the attorney general propose it."

Vorenberg pictures his office as a clearing house for new ideas in the field of criminal justice.

Common Mart Edging to Agreement

By CARL HARTMAN

BRUSSELS (AP) — Western Europe's six Common Market countries are edging toward agreement over the weekend on how to negotiate with the United States on the late President John F. Kennedy's goal of a 50 per cent cut in tariffs.

It was still uncertain whether they would meet the Monday deadline or declaring which of the 10,000 or more items they trade would not be subject to the cut. This list of exceptions is due to be deposited in Geneva,

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A peppery 80-year-old who has often appeared on television is making his formal debut this week as a television star. He is Harry S. Truman, former president of the United States, and the name of his series is "Decision: The Conflicts of Harry S. Truman."
Twenty-six shows have already been completed.

The reason the series — an examination of his major decisions during the eventful years in the White House — has been launched without the usual fanfare is that it is sold to individual television stations around the nation, instead of to one of the three major networks.

"You mean you don't WANT me to reward myself for staying within the grocery budget?"

"DEAR ABBY"

DON'T WASTE TIME!

By Abigail Van Buren
Dear Abby: A 17-year-old girl has been our sitter for three years. He's a lovely, reliable, steady girl, and our children love her. Certain recent happenings have given rise to suspicion. First, our liquor supply has mysteriously diminished. Then, she's begun to CHAIN our front door, making it impossible for us to enter until she lets us in. And the last straw came this morning when I found a man's undershirt (several sizes larger than my husband's) wadded up behind the couch cushions. What do I do, Abby? If I tell her mother, the girl never will sit for me again. I don't want to lose her. She is a gem in every way.

CHICAGO MOTHER
Dear Mother: You seem only concerned with the possibility of losing a sitter when a far more serious issue is at hand. A once "lovely, reliable, steady" 17-year-old girl is in danger of getting into serious trouble. Confront her with the evidence and have a frank, friendly and sympathetic talk with her. Impress upon her that she is flirting with tragedy, and any man who would be a party to such behavior is a worthless heel. She needs to be informed—not informed on! P.S. And if she brushes you off, drop her and tell her mother why.

Dear Abby: I am 13, and have a 7:40 class in the morning. So does this other boy who lives near me. Our mothers take turns driving. When it is our turn to drive, we are in front of his house at 7:25 sharp. It takes about ten minutes to get to school. We always have to wait about five minutes for him to come out, and when he does, he runs out half-dressed with his breakfast in a paper napkin. When it's his mother's turn to drive, I am always standing out on the curb waiting, and they never show up until 7:30. I admit that I haven't been late yet, but it has been only a matter of a few seconds. This is making me nervous. What should I do?

ALMOST TARDY
Dear Almost: Tell him that you will take care of your own transportation, in the future, and he should do likewise. A 7:40 class is tough enough to face without starting the day with your stomach tied in knots.

Dear Abby: Inform the girl who was engaged to the serviceman who had just left for Germany that if she really must marry him sooner than they had planned, she should (1) get proof from her doctor, (2) present this proof to the Red Cross and enlist their help. They will contact her fiancé and give him the information. And if he asks his commanding officer for an emergency leave, and tells him why, his chances of being flown home immediately (without cost) to marry the girl are excellent. The Red Cross and our military are unbelievable kind and cooperative in a crisis of this kind. I know.

Strike Troubled

Ford made no immediate comment on the charge.
The separate, local strikes bear on individual at-plant issues. Local agreements supplement the national Ford-UAW contract. Ford, the rival General Motors and Chrysler, came to national agreements with the union weeks ago, although GM was troubled into last week by local disputes, all now settled.
Ford and the UAW gave up Wednesday in efforts to settle four of the strikes in top-level negotiations here.

The union ordered its national Ford bargaining committee to Detroit and proposed a further meeting next Thursday.
Ford's President Miller said in San Diego, Calif., Thursday that a national Ford shutdown could result from a shortage of car parts from the interlocking production system.

So far in the strikes Ford has lost more than 10,000 units of car and truck assemblies. The company's sales reports have indicated no strike effects.

There were 21,910 more girls than boys among the 1,710,844 U.S. public high school graduates in 1963.

Although Richard I. reigned over England, for 10 years, he spent little more than six months in that country.

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Tanzania has notified the Organization of African Unity that it has "concrete evidence" Portugal and certain Western powers plan to attack it.

Foreign Minister Oscar Kambona told a news conference Tuesday he had alerted the organization's secretary-general, Diallo Telli, about "this intended aggression" by white mercenaries.

Crawled Out at the Wrong Time

BILOXI, Miss. — Louis Paul Matranga, 33, crawled out of the rear window of a house Thursday when two insurance agents came to the door. Matranga, who escaped from the Louisiana Penitentiary last June 26, said he thought the men were FBI agents who wanted to arrest him.

After the men left, he returned to the house. Then some other men came to the house and arrested him. They were FBI agents.

He had served six months of a 12-year term when he escaped.

Wonder Why Boss Cranky in Morning

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ever wonder why the boss is unreasonable sometimes in the morning?

Or cranky? A prominent psychiatrist says you probably can blame it on that argument he had at breakfast with his son or his wife.

Dr. Francis J. Braceland of Hartford, Conn., former psychiatrist in chief in the U.S. surgeon general's office, says the executive can't check his personal problems — like that early morning argument at home — at the parking lot. He has to bring them into the office.

Dr. Braceland told a conference sponsored by the Society for Advancement of Management: "The hazards which the executive brings into his office with him are in many instances more difficult for him to cope with than the ones he encounters there."

"The boss with poor human relations," said Dr. Braceland, tends "to increase neurotic and psychosomatic reactions all around him."

This results in high labor turnover sometimes, he added, pointing out that "from 60 to 80 per cent of all dismissals in industry are due to social incompetence rather than industrial failure."

Dr. Braceland, in his prepared remarks, suggested that "for an official to be badly maladjusted is worse than if he had the measles."

"One of the disadvantages of many modern industrial set-ups is that all too often work fails to provide emotional satisfactions which men need in their occupation."

Dr. Braceland said a boss's personality covers a wide range and insisted "there is no invariable executive type."

Deceptive Packaging Law Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—A disputed majority report by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee called today for new federal law to forbid unfair and deceptive packaging of food and household products.

It pictured the housewife doing her shopping as confused in many instances by unfair packaging and other gimmicks making it difficult or impossible to figure out just what she is getting for her money and the business world as lacking facilities to police such practices. It said small businesses in particular suffer as a result.

Two of the subcommittee's Republican members filed separate dissenting reports denouncing the proposed legislation.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said it would lead to higher prices, less competition and be "harmful or destructive" to consumers, workers and businesses.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., called it "shockingly bad" legislation which wrongly "regards our people as childlike" and businesses as corrupt.

The bill in question died in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Who Steals My Name . . .

By Clay Richards

The Story: Apparently Richard Emery, suspect in a mail robbery case has left town. Inspector Blake Morgan has been unable to find Emery at any of the places he usually visits.

He studied the picture, then looked at me. There was a slight change in his expression. "You a cop?" he asked.

I shook my head. "A friend of the family. He hasn't been home for a couple of days. The family doesn't want to make a big scene, but they're a little worried. I promised them I'd try to find out if he was all right."

"I think he's been in here a few times," he said carefully. "Usually later, just before I go off."

"I think he usually meets a friend here," I said. "A fellow named Joe. I don't know his last name."

He was still rubbing the bar. "This fellow you're looking for," he said. "He stays at home with his mother and father? It ain't a wife looking for her husband?"

"He lives with his parents," I said. "He's a little old for it, maybe, but they have a big house uptown. They don't want to interfere in his life, but they are a little worried."

"I know a fellow named Joe. Maybe he's the one you have in mind, maybe not. I think the two of them meet in here sometimes, but like I said, usually later than this. I haven't seen them here in a week or so."

I sipped my drink. He took a couple more swipes at the bar and put the cloth away.

"That Joe," he said finally, "comes around all the time but mostly later. Sometimes he just comes before I go off, sometimes afterwards. He lives somewhere in the neighborhood. I don't know what he does but he always seems to have money—or somebody with him does."

"I thought that was probably it," I said casually. "The boy I was asking about comes from a family that has a few bucks."

"It figures. The few times I saw them together Joe wasn't picking up any tabs. It ain't any of my business what people do, you understand, but I always figured this Joe is out to get what he can out of anybody."

"Sounds like it," I agreed.

Who Steals My Name . . .

By Clay Richards

The Story: Apparently Richard Emery, suspect in a mail robbery case has left town. Inspector Blake Morgan has been unable to find Emery at any of the places he usually visits.

"I added a dollar to my change that was on the bar and slid off the stool."

"I'd rather this Joe didn't know I was here or that I'm coming back. From what you say about him, I'd never get a chance to ask him about the other fellow."

"That's probably right," the bartender said. "I don't even remember what you were talking about. It ain't any of my business."

I took my time over dinner and coffee so it was almost eight by the time I left the restaurant.

I walked up to Sheridan Square and bought some cigarettes, then continued on to Tenth Street, and over to the Red Vest. It was busier than when I'd been there before.

There were several people in the back having dinner and there were eight at the bar.

The bartender brought my drink, took my money, then went back to an argument which my arrival had apparently interrupted. It was with a young fellow on the other side of a blonde.

"You're crazy," the bartender said. "The Dodgers have the best ball club that's been around for years. The best."

I thought it was an argument in which I'd have to side with the young fellow until I heard his answer.

"Then why do the Yankees win all the time?" he asked. "They got more money than all the other clubs put together. They don't win games—they buy them."

"What's wrong with money?" the young fellow asked. "I'll make you a bet. I'll bet you that the Yankees win the next series no matter who wins the National League pennant. And I'll bet the Yankees win more games, bring in more runs, pitch more shutouts and make less errors during the season than the Dodgers. Ten bucks on each bet."

"Fifty bucks," the bartender said. "You talking about betting on credit or putting the money up now?"

The young fellow pulled some money out and put five tens on the bar. The bartender picked up the money and put it in the envelope. He sealed it and put it away in the cash register.

Then he went back to stand in front of the young fellow.

"Tell me something, Joe," he said. "Usually you're so broke you're lucky to have the price of a beer. Now you've been flashing a lot of green stuff. Did you have a rich uncle that died?"

I was getting interested. The young fellow was named Joe. (To Be Continued)

Big Scramble for Senate Prestige

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Already involved in a sectional scrap over one of their leadership jobs, Democrats appear to be heading toward a free-for-all scramble for prestige posts in the new Senate.

What committee assignments to give Sen-elect Robert F. Kennedy of New York and other newcomers may prove more perplexing than the choice of an assistant leader to succeed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota when he quits the Senate to become vice president.

A contest among Sens. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island, Russell B. Long of Louisiana and Mike Monroney of Oklahoma for Humphrey's old job seems to be shaping up into a sectional battle.

Pastore, generally credited with being President Johnson's favorite for the job, appears likely to get the support of Eastern and New England members who lean toward liberalism.

Long's basic backing is among conservative Southerners. He claims to have pledges in one form or another from 39 colleagues. There will be either 67 or 68 Democrats, depending on the outcome of a recheck in Nevada. But Long's bid has been damaged by his state's Republican majority in the presidential contest and his own opposition to civil rights legislation.

Monroney is claiming strong support from Midwestern and Western Democrats who generally class themselves as middle of the road in their views.

This contest may go down to the wire as a three-man race to be settled by a caucus vote early in January.

But what to do about posts Humphrey is leaving on the influential Foreign Relations and Appropriations committees may provide a giant-size headache for the Democratic steering committee. It is headed by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Under the so-called "Johnson rule," each new Democrat will get one major committee assignment. There are five new faces among the majority, Kennedy, Ross Bass of Tennessee, Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland, Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico.

Figures Porkers Will Outfox the Mustangs

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

Arkansas, third-ranked, unbeaten, untied and with a chance to sew up a Cotton Bowl berth, battles Southern Methodist University in Fayetteville Saturday.

It shapes up as a battle of the haves and the have-nots. Coach Frank Broyles said Sunday that "incentive is what we've got going for" the 1964 Razorbacks.

The Mustangs will have plenty of incentive, too. Knocking off an unbeaten, untied, third-ranked power can turn a thus far mediocre season into one to remember.

Hayden Fry, who left Arkansas several years ago to become the SMU helmsman, would like nothing better than to outwit his former coaching cohorts.

Broyles would like nothing less. It is as much a credit to Broyles as to the Razorbacks that each week they unveil a new twist in the offense that clicks often enough to bedazzle the new opposition. Look for it again this week.

We see them this way (after scoring correctly on all our picks last week):

Arkansas 21, SMU 14. The fired-up Mustangs will find the Razorbacks high for this one, too—on a day when No. 1 Notre Dame and No. 2 Alabama will be meeting what may be their toughest opposition.

Arkansas State tangles with Lamar Tech in Jonesboro Saturday in a game that will decide the first Southland Conference football championship.

The unbeaten Indians stumbled into a 7-7 tie with Arlington State but Lamar Tech's record is clean, clean, clean.

This seems to be the year for football in Arkansas, so call it Arkansas State 14, Lamar Tech 13.

Now, the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference:

Arkansas Tech 14, Harding 0. And the Wonder Boys get the crown all by themselves.

Henderson 13, State Teachers 7. Out of sheer animosity.

Arkansas A&M 14, Southern State 0. The Aggies hit their stride too late for the title, but not too late for the Muldriers.

Ouchita 14, Millsaps 7. These Bengals aren't from the bayous, but they'll handle this Mississippi team, anyway.

Life Lately Was Lonely for Liston

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The last 38 weeks have been the loneliest of all in the troubled life of ex-champion Charles Sonny Liston. He figures he can change all that by regaining the heavyweight boxing crown from Cassius Clay Monday night.

"I just want that title," said the man Clay calls that Big, Ugly Bear. "That's all there is in all this world."

"When you wake up and find you're not the champ any more you're all alone. The guys with the big mouths are out talking about you, not to you, and what they say ain't what they said the day before. It's a big price to pay."

"Never mind what Clay has to say. I don't want to hear them or read them. Let him talk. A scared man talks like that. I'm going my way this time and I'm working hard."

"I'm going to get that title and keep it a long time. I'm going to like it and with it I won't be lonely."

Liston is building up an internal fury for the Boston Garden rematch of the Feb. 25 bout in Miami, where his injured left shoulder did not permit him to continue past the sixth round.

"No more press conferences," announced publicist Al Braverman at the Plymouth, Mass., training site. "Sonny's been operating as fully as possible all along. He's getting very edgy now, and he wants to be alone."

One ring observer watched Liston pummeling his sparring mates and commented:

"He's full up to here with viciousness," pointing to his forehead. "He's got so much viciousness inside him he's just got to let it out."

Great Cage Comeback, Schayes Says

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"It was the greatest comeback in the history of basketball."

That was Dolph Schayes coach of the Philadelphia 76ers, beaming after his 76ers had come from 25 points behind in the third quarter to upset the champion Boston Celtics 110-109 in the National Basketball Association Thursday.

It was the Celtics' first defeat of the season after 11 straight triumphs.

"It was the greatest comeback," Schayes went on, "because it was against Boston. That's something that has never happened to Boston."

The 76ers won on Paul Neumann's 20-foot jump shot with eight seconds left to play. It was the first game of a doubleheader before 14,378 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

In the nightcap the Los Angeles Lakers tied the score in the last five seconds then went on to beat the New York Knicks 132-123 in overtime.

Detroit made it two straight under its new coach, Dave DeBusschere, beating the San Francisco Warriors 121-99 on

Michigan State Goes Against Unbeaten Irish

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duffy Daugherty isn't trying to get Notre Dame's Irish up, honest he isn't. It just happens that Daugherty coaches the Michigan State football team that just happens to be the main stumbling block on the road to a perfect season for the Irish.

That makes Daugherty public enemy number one around South Bend, Ind. and the affable little Spartan coach is enjoying every minute of it as he reads his club for their shot at the top-ranked Irish Saturday.

Just to stir things up a bit, Daugherty phoned Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian and told him: "Ara, we're going to do you a favor Saturday. We're going to knock you off and take you off the spot."

Warning up to his subject, Daugherty continued. "You know if you go through unbeaten your first season, you'll be in trouble. Your red-hot alumni will be expecting it every year. So if you lose a couple, they'll be yelling for your scalp. But we'll fix that."

State has fixed Notre Dame pretty well over the last few years with the Irish showing just one victory in the last 12 meetings. Daugherty's clubs have won eight in a row. Mildly stated, the Irish are tired of being pushed around by MSU.

Michigan State lost three of their first four games but has come on strong with three straight victories capped by a 21-7 victory over Purdue last Saturday which knocked the Boilermakers out of a tie for the Big Ten lead.

Notre Dame is 7-0 but had a scare a week ago when it just eked out a 17-15 victory against underdog Pitt.

That close call makes the Irish suspect. Only two weeks ago, Ohio State, then No. 1, slipped by Iowa 21-19. Along came unranked Penn State to knock off the Buckeyes 27-0 last Saturday and drop them to seventh place in the poll. Ohio State goes after some of its lost prestige at home Saturday against Northwestern.

The weekend's slate gets started tonight with Miami of Florida hosting Boston College.

Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney has a new wrinkle planned when his fourth ranked Cornhuskers entertain Oklahoma State. He'll show films of the first half during the halftime intermission.

The electronic technique works much like television's videotaping process providing immediate runbacks.

Alabama, second-ranked and 8-0 for the season, battles No. 10 Georgia Tech in the only game involving two Top Ten teams.

Third-ranked Arkansas, also 8-0, meets Southern Methodist; No. 5 Texas is at Texas Christian; Michigan, sixth-ranked, plays at Iowa; No. 8 Oregon State visits Stanford; and Louisiana State, No. 9, hosts Mississippi State.

Comeback of Year Title to Bunning

By HAROLD HARRISON
CINCINNATI (AP) — "Comeback of the year? Comeback from where? Where have I been?"

These were the questions asked by Jim Bunning, Philadelphia Phils pitcher, when told he had been selected Thursday as the National League's Comeback Player of the Year for 1964 in The Associated Press poll.

Bunning had a 19-8 record with the Phils this year and on June 21 hurled the major leagues' first regular-season perfect game in 42 years. It was against the New York Mets.

He had only a 12-13 record with the Detroit Tigers in 1963 and, in the 1963-64 off-season was traded, along with catcher Gus Triandos, to the Phils for outfielder Don Demeter and Pitcher Jack Hamilton.

Bunning, a resident of nearby Ft. Thomas, Ky., works for a Cincinnati investment house during the winter.

Although he questioned the "comeback" idea, Bunning admitted he pitched better this year than in 1963.

Part of his improved record, he said, was due to a "better defense."

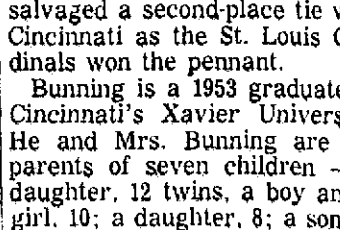

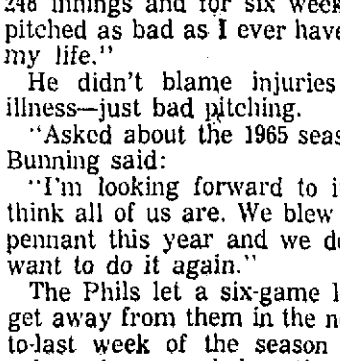

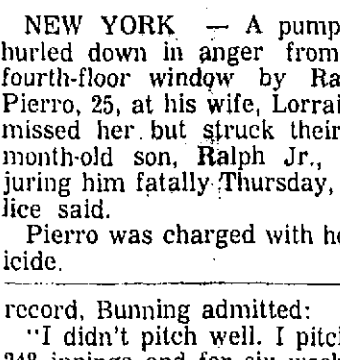

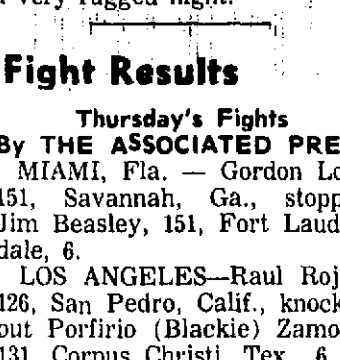

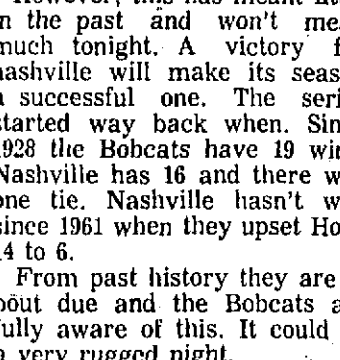

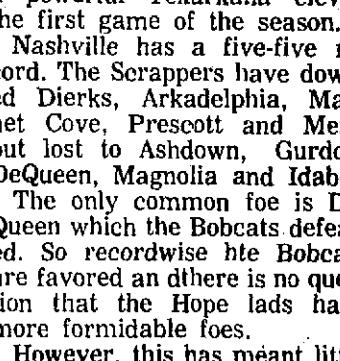

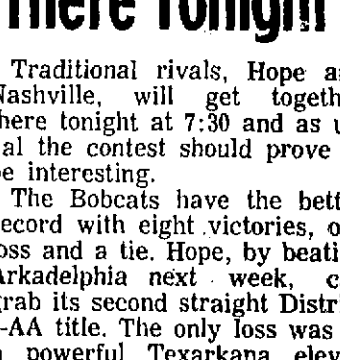

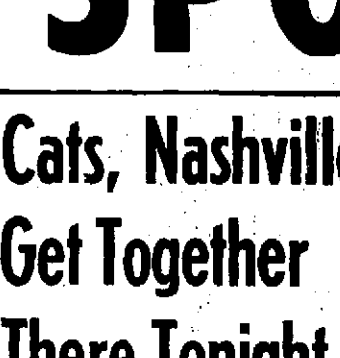

Then, referring to his 1963 the Pistons' home court.

Boston got off to a 11-0 lead against Philadelphia and led 80-55 midway of the third period before the 76ers caught fire.

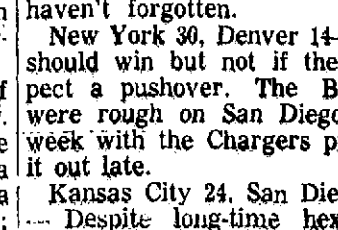

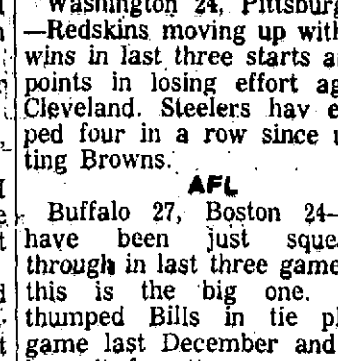

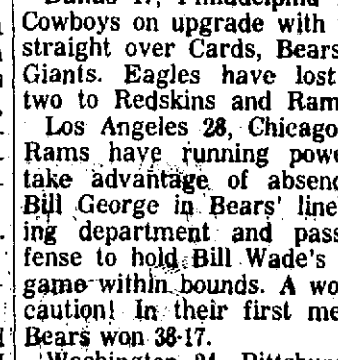

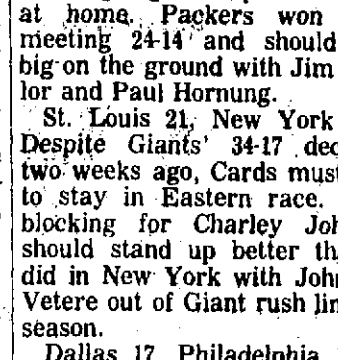

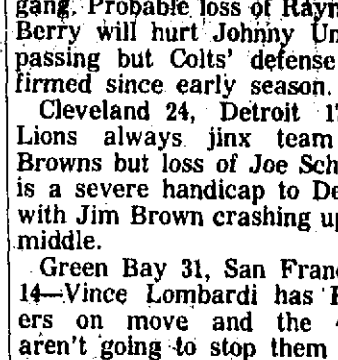

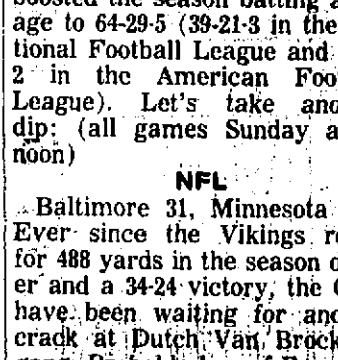

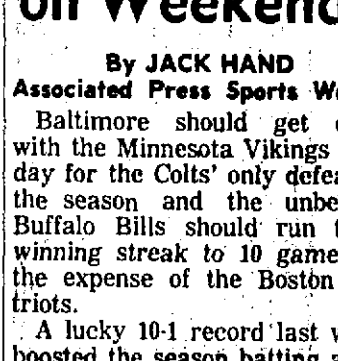

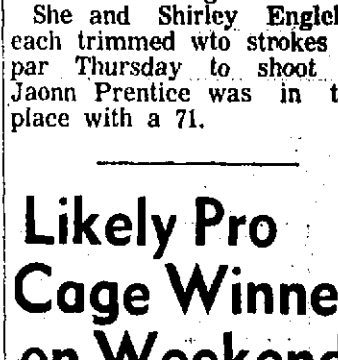

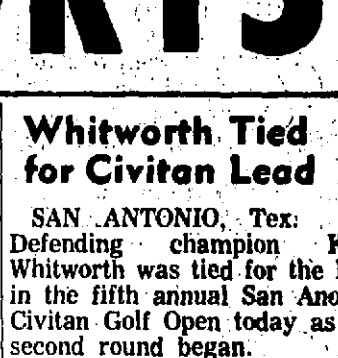

"We didn't like to see it end this way," said Boston Coach Red Auerbach, "but we knew it had to happen sometime."

He indicated things would be different when Boston plays at Philadelphia Saturday night.

SHORT RIDS

Porker Win Means Cotton Bowl Berth

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.

Southern Methodist University throws its lackluster offense into the teeth of the Southwest Conference's mightiest defense when third-ranked Arkansas takes aim at a Cotton Bowl berth here Saturday.

If the unbeaten Razorbacks win they will be the hosts in the Cotton Bowl game, and they'll have themselves at least a tie for the SWC championship.

Only Texas could still have a chance of joining Arkansas in the throne room if Arkansas downs SMU, and the Longhorns would be shut out if the Razorbacks went on to beat Texas Tech on Nov. 21.

The Arkansas defense, spearheaded by linebacker Ronnie Caviness, a 215-pound senior, is tops in the conference and 10th in the nation in fewest yards given up.

It will be Arkansas' homecoming and the Razorbacks have yet to lose the festivity-marked game since Frank Broyles became head coach in 1958.

Danny Thomas, the talented SMU quarterback, will match his punting toe against that of Arkansas' Bobby Nix in a pairing of top kickers.

Arkansas has its most versatile offense since Broyles arrived. Quarterback Fred Marshall, tailback Jack Brausell and wingback Jim Lindsey have gained more than 100 yards in games this season.

End Jerry Lamb, a unanimous all-SWC choice last year, is a top pass receiver along with Lindsey.

Broyles rates the Razorback defensive line as the quickest he has seen anywhere, any time.

A Mink Cloak for the Toes
DETROIT (AP) — Now, of all things, a mink cloak for the toes.

That's right, a mink toe piece, and Dr. Morton B. Lesser, a Detroit dentist, has it — thanks to his furrier brother-in-law, Sam Offen.

Dr. Lesser injured his Achilles tendon playing squash. A doctor put a cast on his leg, leaving, as usual, the toes sticking out.

With winter coming on, Offen came to the aid of his brother-in-law, doing him up with a toe cover in lutetia mink, label, initials and all. A tie around the cast holds it in place.

Kansas City showed good punch last week against Oakland while San Diego was so-so.

Houston 28, Oakland 21—Oilers won earlier 42-28 and Raiders looked disorganized last week against Kansas City.

Baltimore 31, Minnesota 21—Ever since the Vikings rolled for 488 yards in the season opener and a 34-21 victory, the Colts have been waiting for another crack at Dutch Van Broeklin's gang. Probable loss of Raymond Berry will hurt Johnny Unitas' passing but Colts' defense has firmed since early season.

Cleveland 24, Detroit 17—Lions always jinx team for Browns but loss of Joe Schmidt is a severe handicap to Detroit with Jim Brown crashing up the middle.

Green Bay 31, San Francisco 14—Vince Lombardi has Packers on move and the 49ers aren't going to stop them even at home. Packers won first meeting 24-14 and should roll big on the ground with Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung.

St. Louis 21, New York 17—Despite Giants' 34-17 decision two weeks ago, Cards must win to stay in Eastern race. Pass blocking for Charley Johnson should stand up better than it did in New York with John Lovetere out of Giant rush line for season.

Dallas 17, Philadelphia 10—Cowboys on upgrade with three straight over Cards, Bears and Giants. Eagles have lost last two to Redskins and Rams.

Los Angeles 28, Chicago 21—Rams have running power to take advantage of absence of Bill George in Bears' linebacking department and pass defense to hold Bill Wade's short game within bounds. A word of caution! In their first meeting Bears won 38-17.

Washington 24, Pittsburgh 21—Redskins moving up with two wins in last three starts and 24 points in losing effort against Cleveland. Steelers have edropped four in a row since upsetting Browns.

Buffalo 27, Boston 24—Bills have been just squeaking through in last three games but this is the big one. Pats thumped Bills in tie playoff game last December and they haven't forgotten.

New York 30, Denver 14—Jets should win but not if they expect a pushover. The Broncos were rough on San Diego last week with the Chargers pulling it out late.

Kansas City 24, San Diego 21—Despite long-time hex the Chargers have over the Chiefs.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's the changing of the guard," said a guest at a Paramount party this week. Indeed, the event seemed to symbolize the new era of Hollywood film making.

The host of the Beverly Hills Hotel bash was George Welner, new president of Paramount. The guest of honor was the studio's new production head, Howard Koch. Welner chose the occasion to announce another coronation for Koch — a vice presidency in the company.

The two executives seemed to embody the new breed of movie men. Gone except for J. Warner — are the pioneering empire-builders. In their place are the hard-working men who have climbed from the lower ranks.

Chicago-born Welner, 63, started with Paramount 42 years ago in its processing lab on Long Island. New Yorker Koch, 48, began in the playdate and contract department of Universal's New York office in 1934, came to Hollywood the following year and got a job as a film librarian at 20th Century Fox.

A sizeable number of the town's wheeler-dealers came to the party honoring Koch, including a number of super-stars who are among his friends. John Wayne, looking fit enough to lead another cavalry charge, made his first public appearance since his recent operation.

Frank Sinatra, who rarely makes such affairs, showed up to demonstrate that his relations with Koch remain good. Yul Brynner was there, also James Garner, Natalie Wood, George Maharis.

Other names in the crowd: Vince Edwards, Suzanne Pleshette, Clint Walker, Hugh O'Brian, Trevor Howard, Angie Dickinson, Elizabeth Allen, Carol Lynley, Karl Malden, Ricardo Montalban, Gilbert Roland, Edmond O'Brien, Robert Stack.

Also present were veteran movie makers like George Cukor, Frank Capra, Henry Hathaway, Howard Hawks, Otto Preminger, Mervyn Leroy, William Goetz.

No one can estimate how many deals were begun or concluded at the Paramount party. Enough power was present to finance and film 75 movies. Everyone seemed to be doing big business except the bartenders. With so much at stake, drinking is inclined to be cautious.

Would Accelerate Super Highways
NEW ORLEANS, Ark. (AP) — Highway officials from 12 states adopted a resolution here Wednesday urging Congress to accelerate construction of the 41,000-mile interstate superhighway system.

The Southeastern Association of State Highway Officials asked Congress to pass legislation to get the system completed before the 1972 target date. More than 1,000 delegates attended from Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The resolution said the urged legislation should protect states unable to "expedite financing and construction."

Ruts made by wagon trans headed westward still are visible on the Oregon Trail route in Nebraska.

Beef Takes Spotlight at Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef will take the spotlight as a weekend special in the nation's food stores this week. A wide variety of cuts will be featured.

A wide variety of pork cuts — sausage, roasts, chops and hams — will be offered in many areas.

Broiler-fryer chickens will be the No. 1 poultry buy.

With Thanksgiving approaching, estimates indicate turkey growers will raise 98.7 million birds this year, 5.3 million more than in 1963.

Turkeys are cheaper this year. Lightweight hens are wholesaling in Chicago at 24 cents a pound, about 3 cents under a year ago.

The rest of the traditional holiday meals will cost more than last year. Cranberries are wholesaling at $1.75 per 24-pound case, up 13 cents from last year. Potatoes are scarcer. The round red type are bringing $4.25 per 100 pounds in Chicago wholesale trading, about double a year ago. Onions, sweet potatoes, carrots and canned pumpkin are less abundant.

There will be an amply supply of
